April 22nd – April 26th (Week 34)

Dear Parents,

We are on the downhill! Please keep in mind that there is a limited amount of time to bring low grades up. Although we are on the final stretch, please help keep your child on track through the end of the school year. There is still learning to be done and grades to be taken. Let's finish strong!

Please note that the book report is due next Wednesday, May 1st. Remember, this is not a summary report, but, rather an analysis of an attribute of quality literature. I have gone over samples in class, students have been given the rubric and have everything they need to complete it. Please don't forget to sign the rubric.

Our final class store in which the students purchase items with the tickets they have earned, will be the last week of school. I would love to make it the best one ever and could use some help with donations. If you are able to contribute any dollar store type items, it would be greatly appreciated. Stuffed animals, games/balls, movie candy, fun post it notes, and crafts seem to be class favorites. Please send in at your earliest convenience. Thank you!

Have a great week!
