April 29th – May 3rd (Week 35)

Dear Parents,

The book report is due this Wednesday. Please help your child with proofreading and ensure that all requirements on the rubric have been met, including the parent signature.

Although we are on the final stretch, please help keep your child focused through the end of the school year. There is still learning to be done and grades to be taken! If your child is working to bring up a low grade, now is the time! Please also remind your student that all school rules remain in effect and consequences will be given for inappropriate behaviors.

Students will need to bring a D cell battery by Tuesday, 4/30, for our upcoming electricity unit.

Just a reminder that I could use some donations for our final class store for students to use their tickets. Any dollar store type items would be greatly appreciated. Class favorites are stuffed animals, movie candy, games/balls, fun post it notes, and crafts. Please send in at your earliest convenience as this will take place the last week of school which is rapidly approaching! Thank you!

Have a great week!
